

Eastern Shore of Virginia Community Foundation 2020/2021

Annual Report Featuring Grants, Gifts and Financial Data from 2020

Our Mission

To create and provide philanthropic resources to meet a broad range of needs for the benefit of the Eastern Shore of Virginia by:

Enabling donors to meet their charitable goals through prudently administered, permanently endowed funds.

Offering a comprehensive array of services to encourage, advance and educate donors about effective philanthropy.

Making critical grants to meet current and emerging community needs and opportunities.

Our Focus

Public & Civic Life: Preserve and increase access to our unique community assets.

Education: Improve students' readiness to learn and ability to succeed in school and life.

Arts & Culture: Promote broad-based participation in arts and cultural activities.

Environment: Support environmental preservation and education.

Health: Support healthcare services and wellness education through community-based organizations

Family, Child & Social Welfare: Improve the quality of life for families & communities, particularly in the areas of basic human needs.

Our Commitment

Building a permanent unrestricted endowment provides the best resource for meeting the future needs of the community.

Making strategic and transformational grants is the most effective way to create positive changes in the community and inspire philanthropy.

Funding across a spectrum of social services, the arts, civic projects and the environment is our mandate; focusing on education and healthy families as the foundation for individual success and community vitality is our priority.

Treating our donors, grant applicants, volunteers and employees with equal respect is essential to the success of our mission.

Our Belief

We believe that racial equity is essential to the success of the Shore and its people. We further believe that advancing a more equitable and inclusive community is core to the mission of the Eastern Shore of Virginia Community Foundation.

Race has long held a defining place in American society. It is embedded in our culture, laws and policies, educational institutions, and economy. The result is a system of racial bias and inequities that limits opportunities for people of color. If left unchallenged, such structural racism threatens our future.

To be sure, this system is bigger than the Eastern Shore of Virginia Community Foundation and the Shore. It is nonetheless a powerful force pushing against "a thriving community with opportunity for all" - what our community foundation envisions for Eastern Shore residents.

Dear Friends and Supporters,

Most importantly, and on behalf of our Board of Directors, thank you for your amazing support over the past year. 2020 proved difficult on so many different fronts as the Covid-19 pandemic and ensuing economic and social challenges stretched many resources on the Shore. Predictably, our friends and neighbors rose to the challenge of helping our community stay healthy and thrive.

The Community Foundation provided emergency grants to several of our social service non-profits which helped take care of our friends and neighbors. In December 2020, we concluded sixteen years of grant making. During this time, I'm pleased to report the foundation has awarded over 110 grants totaling more than $3,250,000 to non-profits in our two-county area. While the results have helped our community immensely, we know that there is still more work to do here.

The growth of the foundation reflects the deep dedication and commitment of our board and our supporters. At the close of 2020, ESVCF had an endowment of over $12,000,000, illustrating both the generosity of our donors as well as the broad range of community needs on the Shore. The foundation has been successful in providing grants to meet this broad range of needs through the efforts of many individuals. To all of you, I express my deepest appreciation.

A part of life on Virginia's Eastern Shore has always been the profound level of community support. This type of giving is the bedrock of our organization, and I would be remiss if I didn't publicly thank each of our supporters and friends for their past and continuing support and enthusiasm. Your support makes a real difference.

In addition, I'm very pleased to tell you of the dedication, service and wisdom our present and previous board members have devoted to the foundation. Without the spirit and willingness of these individuals, the success mentioned above would not have been possible. To each goes my deepest appreciation for their commitment and community pride.

In closing, it is with great excitement that we approach the future and working to make our local organizations stronger and more efficient as community assets. Again, thank you for your generous support and interest in the foundation and to each of you I extend my best wishes.

Sincerely,

DEDICATED VOLUNTEERS HELPING NEIGHBORS

In our prior annual report, we featured the important work of the Shore Delivery Corps (SDC) and how it self-formed in response to the risks posed by Covid-19. During the period from July 2020 through June 2021, SDC continued to work diligently to ensure that Eastern Shore residents stayed safe from the threats to our community.

The mission of the SDC is to provide free delivery service of needed medical supplies and prescriptions as well as perishable and non-perishable groceries to our fellow Eastern Shore of Virginia citizens who are at the highest risk for serious complications from COVID-19, thus allowing this population to stay at home, away from public places and decreasing the potential exposure and spread of this virus.

During this time period, SDC volunteers received over 800 calls and made 832 deliveries of groceries, prescriptions, Food Bank deliveries, deliveries to public schools as well as assisting the Eastern Shore Action Agency on Aging/Community Action Agency with deliveries. In addition, SDC volunteers also provided 411 deliveries of bulk paper and 158 deliveries to local schools.

Indeed, their hard work did not go unrecognized, particularly by United Way at a national and regional levels. The United Way highlighted the efforts to keep our community safe in two feature articles and the work of SDC garnered several local newspaper articles as well as radio coverage from WESR.

In addition, the SDC was granted funds from Accomack County to assist in their important work. The funds were part of emergency Covid-19 received from the state and national agencies.

HOW IT WORKS:

An older person or someone with a pre-existing health condition who is interested in having their groceries delivered places a call to SDC.

A volunteer in the remote Call Center answers the phone. The volunteer explains Shore Delivery Corps to the client, verifies their eligibility as “high-risk,” and asks a few intake questions like their address and delivery date. They also find out whether the person can pay or needs free food assistance.

The Call Center volunteer lists the participating grocery stores and pharmacies that clients can order from for an SDC delivery.

The Call Center volunteer notifies a dispatch volunteer of the impending delivery and Dispatch readies a volunteer to make the delivery.

The client makes a phone call to their preferred grocery store or pharmacy and gives them their order.

The store employee takes their order and payment information over the phone.

The store prepares the order for the customer and processes the payment.

Dispatch sends a Shore Delivery Corps volunteer to retrieve the groceries and deliver them to the client’s home.

“Working together, we can all make a difference in preserving the lives and good health of our fellow citizens who are at the greatest risk of serious complications from COVID-19,” said Corps leader Jeff Holland.

Additional information on Shore Delivery Corps can be found at their website: shoredelivery.org or by calling (757) 801-9950 or via email at shoredeliverycorps@gmail.com.

Donations to support the work of Shore Delivery Corps can be made to the Eastern Shore of Virginia Community Foundation via mail or through the websites at shoredelivery.org or esvcf.com.

HISTORIC ONANCOCK SCHOOL

COMMUNITY, CULTURE AND RECREATION

Historic Onancock School Community & Cultural Center is a 13-acre oasis in the heart of Onancock, Virginia. The Onancock School property has been educating children on the Eastern Shore for over 150 years. The present building, now 99 years old, is in the midst of rehabilitation for re-use as a community and cultural center to benefit all residents and visitors to the Eastern Shore.

The property first opened in 1859 as the Atlantic Female Institution, a college for young women and over time was known as the Onancock Academy and subsequently the Margaret Academy until 1922 when Onancock High School was dedicated. The last class to graduate from OHS was in 1984 and in 2006, Accomack County returned the building to the Town of Onancock when local citizens self-formed and created Friends of Onancock School. Their mission is to preserve and revitalize the property as public open space to benefit all residents of the Eastern Shore. In 2022, the organization will celebrate the centennial of their dedication as Onancock High School.

One of the many challenges of re-purposing a building such as Onancock School lay in making the facility fully accessible to the entire community, particularly physical access to the structure. To that end, the school applied for and was granted $50,000 to assist with the installation of an elevator in the building. This added feature will not only make the building more accessible, doing so makes the organization eligible for other types of grants and funding and thus makes a Shore treasure even more valuable.

Previous to the onset of the pandemic in 2020, Historic Onancock School served our diverse community and visitors with a variety of program options from personal fitness and self-defense classes, a table tennis club for all skill levels, and being a member of the Accomack CommUnity Band. In addition, the Waterman’s Heritage Museum is a must-see destination that celebrates the rich maritime heritage of the Eastern Shore watermen.

Phase 1, the largest stage of their outdoor upgrades opened recently and was tested and approved by hundreds of happy campers. The shade of the canopy and large trees are also providing a needed respite from the summer sun.

Both the Artisans Guild of the Eastern Shore and the Eastern Shore Art League have their homes within the school.

For more information on the school and their activities, visit the website at <https://www.historiconancockschool.org/> or call 757-302-1331.

THE DAVIS CENTER

FOSTERING CREATIVITY AND INTERACTION FOR ALL

There was a time many generations ago that Whitesville served as a central location that African Americans relied on for services and entertainment. The community included a school-house (historic Rosenthal School), a movie theater, a grocery store, a hotel, a restaurant, and a dance hall. During this time, business owners were respected families who served as de facto community leaders.

Over many years, the businesses began to close, families moved out of the area, and the community entered a period of degradation. The visionaries of the Davis Center are heirs of this community and seek to honor the legacy of Whitesville. The Community Foundation provided a $50,000 grant to the Davis Center to renovate and restore an historic property to be used as the a community center and the focal point of their activities.

While our community is long on space, land, and opportunities, the project visionaries, who are offspring of an Eastern Shore upbringing, can attest that what the area is shortest on are programs and activities for the youth to grow and develop. For decades rural Eastern Shore of Virginia communities have been absent an environment that encourages youth to grow beyond their circumstance, a place for adults to come together for social programs, and an opportunity for creatives to create, display, and market their talents.

The Davis Center seeks to fill these gaps by providing multi-purpose spaces where the community can safely and creatively enjoy programming and services intended to benefit the health and well-being of the community at large. This project will address limited availability of recreational outlets faced by youth and adults in the Accomack County region of the Eastern Shore of Virginia. The Davis Center will serve as a community collective, entrepreneurial hub, creative workspace, youth enrichment resource, and technology center.

Their goals are to provide the opportunity for an individual or family to become more self-sufficient and less dependent on subsidized support, mobilize community resources to improve the lives of low-income people and the communities in which they live, and enable communities to be more responsive to the needs of low-income persons, and to establish realistic, attainable objectives expressed in concrete terms which permit the measuring of results.

CHINCOTEAGUE ISLAND ARTS ORGANIZATION

ISLAND THEATRE AND THEATRE ANNEX

CIAO started in 2011 as concerned residents saw the island's historic 1946 movie theater face the possibility of demolition after falling into disrepair. In the 1940s and '50s, it was the town's place to go for everything, movies, live shows, meetings, community events said Board Chair Bill Borges. The group purchased the theater before it could be sold for redevelopment and completely restored the building. "CIAO brought it back to its prominence in the downtown," he said. CIAO ensured continued access to films and professional performing arts for its residents and island visitors.

The theater and the town's history is also tied to a famous literary pony. In 1947, Marguerite Henry wrote "Misty of Chincoteague." The beloved children's book series features the wild ponies of Assateague Island, situated across a narrow inlet from Chincoteague. The movie "Misty" based on the book premiered there in 1961. Misty's hoof prints are set in concrete on the sidewalk in front of the Island Theater.

The real-life horse which inspired the book are just one reason people visit. Tourists flock to the Virginia barrier island for its climate, the horses, the surrounding nature preserves and pristine beaches, its famed Chincoteague oysters, and its birding opportunities, according to Borges. Chincoteague has over one million visitors annually who come to experience the unique atmosphere of island life.

Fewer than 3,500 people live on the island year-round, he said. Like many small communities, the movie theater is a linchpin for its downtown, drawing in locals and tourists alike. During the off-season, it is a place for locals to congregate as a community. During the summer, it offers visiting families an additional venue where they can share a vacation experience.

While the historic theater offers new movies on the weekend, it is open nearly every day for the community. Much like the 1940s when it first opened, they offer live theater, classic films, music, events for senior residents, families and children.

When CIAO bought the building, it had been in sad shape for many years. "It is sometimes a challenge to keep a nearly 80-year-old building in good repair," Bill Borges, related. All of their events were put on hold for more than a year during the pandemic and have just started coming back. A grant from the Community Foundation in 2019 assisted with the renovation by providing funds to upgrade the theatre's heating and air conditioning systems.

Margaret Jane Dickinson Internship Fund

Ms. Margaret Jane Dickinson

In 2020, the Margaret J. Dickinson Internship Fund was established by Dr. and Mrs. W. Andrew Dickinson and Andy Bridgforth. This designated fund provides annual funding for an intern to work and support the mission of the Barrier Island Center in Machipongo.

The donors explained, “Jane’s life was distinguished and motivated by a spirit of scholarship, learning and teaching. Her decades long devotion to her students as a grade school teacher in the Washington DC area has prepared thousands of young people for leading productive and purposeful lives. And so, it is in this spirit of teaching and continuous learning that we felt Jane’s legacy and fondest wishes would be best expressed, celebrated, and hopefully preserved by establishing the Margaret Jane Dickinson Endowment as a new continuous learning initiative within the Barrier Islands Center, an organization and culture that nurtures and teaches all that Jane cherished from her Eastern Shore of Virginia ancestry and family home.”

This generosity of spirit on the part of the donors and of course, Ms. Dickinson as well, ensures that this unique educational and vocational opportunity will endure in perpetuity.

Interns working at the Barrier Islands Center.

The Eastern Shore of Virginia Community Foundation recognizes with deepest appreciation the following “partner” organizations which have created endowments with ESVCF:

- Eastern Shore Community College Foundation
- The Auxiliary of Riverside Shore Memorial Hospital
Broadwater Academy
- Eastern Shore of Virginia Barrier Islands Center
- Citizens for a Better Eastern Shore
- Friends of Northampton Free Library
- Randy Custis Memorial Fund
- Virginia Eastern Shore Land Trust
- Chincoteague Island Library
- Museum of Chincoteague Island
- Chincoteague Island Arts
- Northampton County Education Foundation

Endowments created by partner organizations are identified as “Organizational Funds” within the ESVCF assets. ESVCF maintains an ongoing program of creating Organizational Funds for local nonprofit organizations. These relationships allow for management of dedicated endowments by the Hampton Roads Community Foundation through ESVCF while generating an annual income for the nonprofit. The Eastern Shore Community College Foundation created the first Organizational Fund with ESVCF in 2006. Since then, many additional partner groups have created endowments. ESVCF looks forward to assisting additional partner groups in the years ahead through this growing program.

Hampton Roads Community Foundation Year Ending December 31, 2020

The affiliate relationship between the Eastern Shore of Virginia Community Foundation and the Hampton Roads Community Foundation (HRCF) places stewardship of ESVCF capital assets with the Hampton Roads Community Foundation. Through its investment committee, which has investment oversight responsibility for an endowment of approximately $355 million, the Hampton Roads Community Foundation seeks to invest resources prudently in order to preserve and grow the endowment's capacity to fund grants in accordance with donors' wishes today and in the future.

The Hampton Roads Community Foundation is committed to being a good steward of the assets entrusted to it by generous donors over the past 68 years. HRCF invests its resources wisely so they grow to meet future needs while providing funds for grants and scholarships today.

Oversight of HRCF investment portfolio is handled by its investment committee, which works with its investment manager, Spider Management Company LLC of Richmond. Since 2011 the community foundation began investing with Spider Management through its Richmond Fund. The Hampton Roads Community Foundation joins University of Richmond and other nonprofit endowments as Spider Management partners.

Spider manages approximately $4.1 billion in assets and provides us access to a mature, well-diversified investment portfolio managed by a professional staff with an excellent performance record. It also gives a snapshot of the portfolio's asset allocation as of December 31, 2019.
